BACKGROUND

8. On October 7, 2014, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") duly and legally issued the '221 Patent, entitled "System and Method for Storing Broadcast Content in a Cloud-Based Computing Environment" after the USPTO completed a full and fair examination. The '221 Patent is attached as Exhibit A.

9. Rothschild Broadcast Distribution Systems is currently the owner of the '221 Patent.

10. Rothschild Broadcast Distribution Systems possesses all rights of recovery under the '221 Patent, including the exclusive right to recover for past, present and future infringement.

11. The '221 Patent contains thirteen claims including two independent claims (claims 1 and 7) and eleven dependent claims.

COUNT ONE
(Infringement of United States Patent No. 8,856,221)

12. Plaintiff refers to and incorporates the allegations in Paragraphs 1 - 11, the same as if set forth herein.

13. This cause of action arises under the patent laws of the United States and, in particular under 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, et seq.

14. Defendant has knowledge of its infringement of the '221 Patent, at least as of the service of the present complaint.

15. The '221 Patent teaches a method and apparatus for media content storage and delivery. '221 Patent, Abstract. Among other things, the claimed system includes a server, which has a receiver in communication with a processor. Id. The receiver receives a request message. Id. The request message includes media data indicating requested media content and a consumer device identifier corresponding to a consumer device. Id. The processor determines whether the consumer device identifier corresponds to a registered consumer device. Id. If the processor determines that the consumer device identifier corresponds to the registered consumer device, then the processor determines whether the request message is one of a storage request message and a content request message. Id. If the request message is the storage request message, then the processor is further configured to determine whether the requested media content is available for storage. Id. If the request message is the content request message, then the processor initiates delivery of the requested media content to the consumer device. Id.

16. The present invention solves problems that existed with then-existing media delivery systems. One problem with prior delivery systems is that the customer was charged according to the expenses of the provider rather than the usage of the customer. '221 Patent, 1:31-57. Customers were not charged based on the amount of programming delivered or the amount or duration of the customer's storage of media. Id. Another such problem, more generally, is that customers were not billed and services were not provided, in a way that was tailored to the customer's needs and usage. Id., 2:3-13.

17. A number of aspects of the invention(s) embodied in the '221 Patent overcome the problems with the prior art. For example, the inventive system includes a processor in communication with a receiver. Id., 2:23-34. The processor determines media content characteristics that correspond to the media content to be stored. Id. The processor determines a length of time to store the media content based on the media data and determines a cost amount based at least in part on the determined media content characteristics and length of time to store the media content. Id. As another example, the system makes a determination that media content is available for download. Id., 2:64-3:2. A determination is made that content is not stored. Download of the media content is initiated. Id. The media content is received and the received media content is stored. Id.

18. The '221 Patent is directed to computerized technologies to provide users with tailored media delivery systems and tailored billing for such systems. Among other things, the '221 Patent claims include sending and receiving of request messages indicating requested media content and including a device identifier corresponding to a consumer device. A determination is made whether the identifier corresponds to the device. A determination is also made as to whether the request is for delivery or storage. The media data in the request includes time data that indicates a length of time for storage. A processor is configured to determine whether requested media exists and whether there are any restrictions associated with delivery or storage of the requested media.

19. The system(s) and methods of the ‘221 Patent include software and hardware that do not operate in a conventional manner. For example, the software is tailored to provide functionality to perform recited steps and the processor is configured (and/or programmed) to provide functionality recited throughout the claims of the ‘221 Patent.

20. The ‘221 Patent solves problems with the art that are rooted in computer technology and that are associated with electronic transmission, loading, and storage of location information, as well as automatic provisioning of route guidance. The ‘221 Patent claims do not merely recite the performance of some business practice known from the pre-Internet world along with the requirement to perform it on the Internet.

21. The improvements of the ‘221 Patent and the features recited in the claims in the ‘221 Patent provide improvements to conventional hardware and software systems and methods. The improvements render the claimed invention of the ‘221 Patent non-generic in view of conventional components.

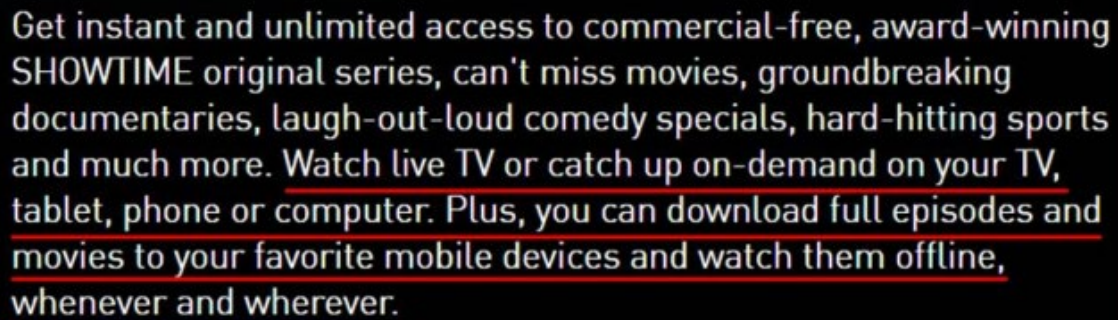

22. The improvements of the ‘221 Patent and the features recitations in the claims of the ‘221 Patent are not those that would be well-understood, routine or conventional to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

23. Accordingly, Defendant has infringed, and continues to infringe, the ‘221 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271. Upon information and belief, Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe one or more claims, including at least Claim 7, of the ‘221 Patent by making, using, importing, selling, and/or offering for media content storage and delivery systems and services covered by one or more claims of the ‘221 Patent.

24. Defendant sells, offers to sell, and/or uses media content storage and delivery systems and services, including, without limitation, the “SHOWTIME” media delivery platform, any associated hardware, software and apps, as well as any similar products (“Product”), which infringe at least Claim 7 of the ‘221 Patent.

25. The Product practices a method of storing (e.g., cloud storage) media content (e.g., conference recording) and delivering requested media content (streaming video, recorded videos, etc.) to a consumer device (e.g., mobile device with app or software). Certain aspects of these elements are illustrated in the screenshots below and/or in those provided in connection with other allegations herein.
